Drinking coffee so many times, drinking tea so many times, whatever you are drinking, means you are drinking something wrong. What do they do first? They thank God.

They thank God even when they eat. Whatever they get, they thank God for it. In our religion, there is gratitude.

Every person should have done this every day. It is there in Sanatana Dharma. But who is doing the practice?

They thank God for whatever they get. Whatever we get, you are cursing this small thing. But for the rest of the body parts that are working well, you are not thanking God.

You are doing a good job for me. What is the meaning of the word bhag? The meaning of the word bhag is that knowledge, power, strength, life, vigour, brightness, perfection is God.

If you have to give all this, then what else do you want? There is no use in cursing Kali Yuga. There is a shloka.

I will tell you in simple Hindi. One who has Govinda in his mind, he feels gratitude in Kali Yuga. One who does not have Govinda in his mind, he feels gratitude in Kali Yuga.

Hiranyakashyapu was born in Kali Yuga. In Hiranyakashyapu's time, the problems that people had to face were not Kali Yuga. It was Kali Yuga.

One who does not have Govinda in his mind, he will become cruel.

[Speaker 2]

There are some great sages and saints who belong to a religious organization in South India. They have been in Rajouri for the past few days. Let me tell you, it is a religious organization.

These people are sages and saints. You can also see their age. They have taken a message of peace in the country.

They have been on a tour of India for many years. They have been in Rajouri for the past few days. On the one hand, they are meeting people and giving a message of peace in the country.

On the other hand, the people who were martyred in Rajouri in the past few days, they have been presented with the message of peace today. The biggest thing is that the sages and saints associated with the religious organization have come here. People are being taught religious teachings from them.

The elders above the age of 80-90 have come among us. They are sages with this organization. They do not take anything from anyone.

Even if someone gives food, they do not take it. They can arrange everything on their own. But if you see their age, you will be surprised.

We also have a lot of information about their organization and their work. Acharya ji, we do not know much about you. What will you tell our viewers?

Where are you from? Because you told me that you have come on a tour of India. The biggest thing is that all the sages and saints are here with you.

I see that people above the age of 80-90 are here. This is called old age. How are things being managed?

Local people told me that you do not take anything from anyone. You do not go to anyone's house. You do not go to any temple.

How does all this work?

[Speaker 1]

We can say that we are dacoits who steal precious things. What to do with small things? We have to steal your mind.

There is nothing more precious than that. So we are stealing.

[Speaker 2]

Where have you come from?

[Speaker 1]

Which organization are you associated with? We are followers of Ramanujacharya. The basic principle of Ramanujacharya is that everyone distributes small things.

No one is ready to distribute the most precious thing. For example, there is land. No one is ready to distribute the land.

The land here is not ready to be distributed. Who will be ready to distribute the land of Moksha? No one was ready at that time.

Only a limited number of people knew how to go to Moksha. He said that everyone has the right to go to Moksha. We are followers of Ramanujacharya.

We are ready to distribute the most precious thing. We are ready to distribute whatever we have.

[Speaker 2]

Swamiji, I have been told that if I go to you as a devotee, I will take some fruit or something else to eat. You do not accept it. Why is that?

We take fruit.

[Speaker 1]

We take fruit without cutting it and eat it by offering it to God. There are two or three things in this. Nowadays, there is a lot of consumerism in English.

The Vedas say that you have to eat as much as you want. You have to eat what you need to work. You have to eat to live.

You have to eat what you need to drink. You have to drink tea, snacks, etc. This is not possible.

Because of all this, there is so much consumerism that you are taking without thinking. Natural resources are never available. In a village, if you give 100,000 liters of cow's milk, you will get 100,000 liters every day.

One day you will get 100,000 liters and the next day you will never get 10,000 liters. So, drinking coffee so many times, drinking tea so many times, means that you are drinking something wrong. This cannot happen naturally.

So, it has become a habit. But you have to eat what you need. Once you eat, you eat.

[Speaker 2]

Religiously, our Sanatan Dharma says that Kalyug is going on. And if we look at Kalyug from a point of view, we get to see it every day. Sometimes people do pooja in front of God.

There is also a desire behind it. It is not that you have to thank God for giving you life. There is also a desire behind it that you have to ask for something.

How do you see it? And what should a common man do in his house so that he stays away from the things of Kalyug and remains in our religious center?

[Speaker 1]

There is no use in cursing Kalyug. There is a shloka. It is better than a shloka.

I will tell you in simple Hindi. The one who has Govind in his mind, he feels gratitude only in Kalyug. The one who does not have Govind in his mind, he feels gratitude only in Kalyug.

Hiranyakashyapu was born in Kalyug. During Hiranyakashyapu's time, the problems that people had to face, that was not Kalyug. That was Kalyug.

The one who does not have Govind in his mind, he will become cruel. The one who lives with him, will feel Kalyug only. In Kalyug itself, Ramanujacharya was incarnated.

Ramanand Swami ji was incarnated. Many great saints were incarnated. They were taking many people to the path of Moksha.

Even in Kritig, that much did not happen. So there is no use in cursing Kalyug. In Kalyug also, you can easily go to Moksha.

This is the word of Vyasa Bhagwan. You can easily go to Moksha in Kalyug. So there is no problem in cursing Kalyug.

What do you say? What am I saying? You have asked a good question.

I am asking Bhagwan only by saying this and that. It is a complete nonsense thing which has become a habit nowadays. It is not according to our religion.

What is the need to ask you? It is in our religion. But we are practicing it in other religions.

Take a Christian or a Muslim. What do they do first? They thank Bhagwan.

They thank Bhagwan when they eat food. They thank Bhagwan In our religion, there are 10 types of gratitude. Every person should have done this.

It is there in Sanatana Dharma. But who is practicing it? 10 types of gratitude.

Whatever we get, you are cursing this small thing. But for the rest of the body parts, which are working well, you are not thanking them. You are not saying that you are working well and you are very kind to me.

You are not recognizing who is working for your welfare. Whether it is your body part, your wife, your children, whoever is working for your welfare, you are neither thanking them nor are you recognizing them. Someone has done something and you are still searching for it.

So how will it work?

[Speaker 2]

I don't have much knowledge about religion. I will tell you the truth. I don't know how I worship Bhagwan and how I fulfill my personal life.

But still, what advice do you give to a person, that should he do some small things in his daily life, which are religious, which are right, and which are at least such that you just thank God. Some small things, worship, I will tell you accordingly.

[Speaker 1]

I will tell you two things. One is gratitude, whatever has been given, first of all, thank Bhagwan for it. Whatever it is, whether it is money, body, honey, whatever it is, thank God for it.

Whatever problem you are facing, it is not a big problem, you are just facing it. Still, there is space in your mind for us, thank God for it. First of all, you have to thank God.

This is called gratitude. This is a very big thing. If you are grateful, even if someone has given you a good mantra, if you are not grateful to him, then will he do anything to you?

Someone is saying, chant 18,000 mantras, do something else in your heart. I am asking, suppose a person has given you a job, and you are not grateful to him, you are doing it on your own, will he do anything else to get you married?

[Speaker 2]

No, he will not.

[Speaker 1]

If you are grateful to him, he will think that he is our man, and will give you more work. So, first of all, you should be grateful to him. This is one thing.

Not with mantra, do it with your mind. If there is a mantra for this, you should chant it with your mind. Secondly, I will give you a very simple example.

You have two children. You have two children. The first child, whatever you give him, whether it is food or anything else, he takes care of it.

He eats well, he experiences it. The second child, whatever you give him, he spoils it. He throws it, spoils it, breaks it.

These are two personalities. When you think of giving the property of the house, who do you give it to? The one who is taken care of, the good one.

To give the other one, you have a desire in your mind because both are your children. You have a lot of love for both of them. You want to give, but you won't because he will spoil it.

So, you should take care of what is given by God. Don't waste food, don't waste anything. He will give more and more.

This is one thing. But still, you will give only half to the first child. You will keep thinking what to do with the other child.

Because if you don't give him, he will spoil it. But the first child has another quality. Whatever he gets, he shares it.

He takes care of his younger brother as well. Then what will you do? You have a desire to take care of the younger one as well.

But you won't give the other half to him because he will spoil it. You will give it to the elder one so that he will take care. You should take care of what is given by God. You should share it and enjoy it.

Then God will give you his property. What is God's property? The meaning of the word Bhag is ज्ञान शक्ति बल आईश्वर जवीर तेज सम्पन्न नहा भगवान होता है If you want to give all this, what else do you want?

Thank you very much. Develop this quality in yourself. Everything else will happen on its own.

[Speaker 2]

This was Mr. Acharya who told us in simple words that there are only two things with which we can improve our life. One is to thank what we have. God has given you this.

After that, if there is any mistake or if there is any pain in your mind, then you should pray for it. But at least thank God for what you have. The second thing is that take care of what you have given.

Distribute it equally to those people who need it. Thank you very much.
